NORTHWIND LABS CODE OF CONDUCT

1. Purpose

This Code of Conduct sets out the standards of behaviour expected of everyone who works at Northwind Labs, including employees, contractors and interns. It applies at the office, when working remotely, at company events and when representing Northwind Labs externally.

2. Respect and Anti-Harassment

We treat everyone with respect. Harassment, bullying, discrimination and intimidation of any kind are not tolerated, whether in person, in writing or online. This includes unwelcome comments about a person's race, gender, sexual orientation, religion, age, disability or any other protected characteristic.

3. Conflicts of Interest

Employees must avoid situations where personal interests conflict with the interests of Northwind Labs. Outside employment, investments in suppliers or competitors, and close personal relationships with people you manage must be disclosed to your manager and the People team in writing.

4. Gifts and Hospitality

You may accept gifts or hospitality from customers or suppliers with a value of up to 75 US dollars. Anything above that value must be declared to your manager within 5 working days and may need to be returned. Cash or cash equivalents, such as gift cards, must never be accepted.

5. Confidentiality

Customer data, source code, financial results and employee records are confidential. Share them only with people who need them to do their job. Confidentiality obligations continue after you leave the company.

6. Use of Company Equipment

Company laptops and accounts are provided for work. Reasonable personal use is allowed, but you must not install unapproved software, disable security tools or store company data on personal devices. Report lost or stolen equipment to IT within 24 hours.

7. Reporting Concerns

If you see something that breaks this Code, speak to your manager or the People team, or report it confidentially through the Speak Up line at ethics@northwindlabs.example. Reports can be made anonymously. Northwind Labs does not tolerate retaliation against anyone who raises a concern in good faith.

8. Consequences

Breaches of this Code may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment. Serious breaches may also be reported to the relevant authorities.
